DR. P. S. OYLER MAKES ENCOURAGING ADDRESS

Parent-Teachers Have Excellent Program at Their October Meeting.

The Parent-Teachers' Association held the October regular meeting on last Friday evening in the High School building and it was attended by over two hundred members. The president, Mrs. Wm. Arch. McClean, presided, and after minutes were read, Mrs. J. B. Baker entertained the audience with a piano solo, and following the report of the Visiting Committee Miss Maud Miller, the secretary, gave a recitation, "Karin's Visit to New York," and in response to the appreciative applause gave an encore.

Seven new members were reported. Mrs. Wayne Keet, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heighes, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hollinger, Mrs. J. B. Morris and Mrs. Neusch.

The Program Committee named for November is composed of Mrs. F. Mark Bream, Miss Nellie Blocher and William H. Sharetts.

The following Visiting Committee was appointed: Mrs. W. F. Gilliland, Miss Ella Gilliland, Mrs. Sallie McCullough, Mrs. Samuel Weiser and Mrs. Stansbury and Mrs. Foth.

Tag Committee for Farmers' Day was named: C. B. Dougherty, Eugene Phillips, Wilson Bream, William Gilbert and Wm. Foth.

At the close of the meeting attention was called to the fact that at the November meeting the annual election of officers would take place and that with the new year the annual dues of 20 cents would be payable.

When the vote on the home and school banner was taken, 120 parents participated in the voting, the school of Miss Elizabeth Rummel won with 18 parents.

One of the excellent features of the association was shown in the report of the Visiting Committee. These committees can be of great service in visiting the schools and noting where improvements are possible. They need not be faultfinding in any particular, but in kind ways point out needs. In this way such committees can become useful avenues to publicity of the point of view of the teachers. The report submitted at the meeting last Friday is as follows:

The committee spent very pleasant afternoons visiting the different schools. We especially enjoyed being with the little folks. We were delighted with the way Miss Stoops was teaching her children to count. In the High Street Building the rooms were very warm, the weather being warm outside made it hard to regulate the rooms inside. Another thing we noticed, we found a few of the children with dirty faces and hands. Now that isn't nice for a teacher to look at. We think that every mother should see that her child's face and hands are clean and their hair combed before they come to school, and if the mother doesn't do it, we think it is up to the teacher to see that they are made clean. Having the basin and water in the rooms there is no excuse for dirty faces and hands. One teacher remarked that she thought she would start and wash their faces if they didn't keep them clean; she knew that one of her washes would be sufficient.

In the Meade Building we heard the little folks in their singing class, and it is wonderful how quickly they catch the different sounds. Miss Majors said the light in her room is poor, the scholars sitting with their backs to the windows, and the teacher facing the light, she wished that the desks could be changed so as to have the light come in over the left shoulder, she said that on a cloudy day it is very bad. In another room the schools were having a drawing lesson, their work looked as though they were all trying very hard. In Miss Scott's room they were reading and every one was paying good attention and answered promptly the questions asked them.

They were having tests in the different rooms so that we didn't hear many lessons. Miss Bausch wanted us to mention about the sewing room being so crowded, she said that the one class is entirely too large that she cannot get around to see what each one is doing. She said if it could be so arranged as to have smaller classes and less table work she and the pupils could work to so much better advantage. The girls in the dress room had twenty-two in the class trying to get an idea of how to make a dress was doing. The boys in the room were doing their work very well.

DR. OYLER'S ADDRESS.

Dr. P. S. Oyler, D. D., made an address on "The Future of Our Schools" and the importance of the position of the parent-teacher association and suggested that the work ahead. Dr. Oyler said that the work of the parent-teacher association is to be proud of and far exceeded expectations in other towns. Clearfield with 8000 population, had no such organization as Gettysburg. Such an organization is able to take trouble by the forelock and dispel it. You have brought the parents and teachers in a sympathetic relation and when both understand each other trouble disappears. The association has a salutary influence on the pupils so that they get more out of the schools. It is cultivating a good clean social life. The common school system is the bulwark of our American system of government and this association is creating and developing a better social atmosphere so that the product of the school will be bettered.

A by-product of such a condition is better homes in our community, a better State and a better Nation, because we have better prepared men and women. With your manual training course your young men will be better men and better prepared for life and be more useful about their homes. With your domestic science training your girls will be better prepared for home building.

A future by-product should be an agricultural course in the schools. This would give an increased earning capacity to the graduates and in the days to come of an increasing population the agricultural problem will be one of the great and important problems. Another future by-product will be a more detailed and scientific study of the student. The physical organism is mentally conditioned. A strong brain means a strong physical condition. If you impair the brain with liquor, cigarettes and narcotics, you will bring about a weakened physical condition.

The day is coming when the schools will have a psychological clinic and a course in eugenics, in the effort to produce the intellectual and physical giant and this will mean better men and better women, and in turn better homes and a better nation.

Teachers' Institute Program.

On last Saturday the executive committee of the school teachers met with County Superintendent at his office and a program for teachers' institute was agreed upon.

The two principal instructors for the week will be Dr. J. C. Willis of Lexington, Ky., and Prof. Harlan E. Hall of Cumberland, O. They are well known institute instructors and have never been to this county. Speakers from Millersville and Shippensburg State Normal Schools and Gettysburg College will assist at the day sessions. The entertainments for the evening are the following:

"Strongheart," given by Margaret Stahl. Miss Stahl comes to us as an interpreter of plays. The very general opinion of critics is that in this sphere she has attained the preeminent place among women. Even as Leland T. Powers has for many years ranked the first among men. "Miss Stahl makes an attractive appearance on the stage and has made herself a consummate master of the art," said Superintendent Friedman of the Carlisle Indian School, of her exhibition.

The Clara Wallace Concert Co.—The members of this company are true artists, possessing unusual talent and ability. They have made their profession a life study and have had the opportunities as afforded by America's as well as Europe's greatest schools and music masters. Their testimonials from other institutes are the best. The Collegians Quartette—This is the strongest quartet of its kind that is in the Lyceum this season. They have been out three seasons and not only has their success been unusual from the first, but they have been received with greater and greater enthusiasm each year. They are vocalists and instrumentalists.

Ralph Bingham—Ralph Bingham, Personator, Humorist, Violinist, Vocalist and Rafter. In this, his thirty-sixth annual tour. Not a lecture, but an evening of song, music and story. The committee believes that the institute this year will be larger and better than ever before. The enrollment of teachers this year is 220, five more than last year. The sessions will again be held in Walter's Theatre as the crowds were much larger last year than when institute convened in Bria Chapel.

A meeting of the committee to plan for the exhibition of the Boys' and Girls' Agricultural League will be held in County Superintendent Roth's office on the morning of Farmers' Day, Saturday, October 17, at 10:30. The exhibition this year will occur on November 18.

Dr. Singmaster's Sermon—War.

The Chambersburg papers in noticing Dr. Singmaster's sermon in the First Lutheran Church of that place on last Sunday evening said it was a masterly effort. The gist of the sermon was "The War of the East." The preacher did not mince words, but he was in full command of his subject. England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United States, all were mentioned in the sermon.

Dr. Singmaster's sermon was a masterpiece of logic and eloquence. He showed that the war was not a mere struggle for territory, but a struggle for the soul of the world. He pointed out the hypocrisy of the nations who claimed to be Christians, yet were engaged in a war of blood and carnage. He urged the people to stand firm in their faith and to support the just cause of the oppressed. His sermon was a powerful and inspiring message that will long be remembered by all who heard it.

DIST. NURSE ANNUAL REPORT

DR. J. A. SINGMASTER, PRESIDENT REVIEWS WORK OF YEAR

Miss Kate Briel, the Nurse Commended in Deserved Highest Terms of Praise.

On last Tuesday evening the District Nursing Association of Gettysburg held its annual meeting in the Court House. The attendance was not what it should have been, but a report of successful accomplishment which should enthusiastically commend itself to every man, woman and child in the town more than supplied any lack of attendance. The report of President Singmaster showed the people of the town were back of the District Nursing Association and were deeply interested in the success of the association even though they had not taken the time to attend the meeting in large numbers.

After Dr. J. A. Singmaster had called the meeting to order and Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, the president read his annual report as follows:

To the Members of the District Nursing Association of Gettysburg, Pa. Ladies and Gentlemen:

In behalf of the Board of Directors it gives me much pleasure as your president to render this third annual report. (Oct. 13, 1914).

MEETINGS.

This association was organized on August 6th, 1912, a little over two years ago. During the past year the Board of Directors held seven regular meetings at the residence of Miss Annie W. Horner to whom we are deeply indebted for a convenient and central place of meeting. The business pertained to the providing of ways and means for the execution of the trust committed to the Board. Various committees held meetings as circumstances demanded. We are happy to report increased interest in the good work of the association. The events of the year have again fully justified its founding and sustained the hope that it may remain a permanent institution in the community.

MEMBERSHIP.

The association now consists of 191 members, who pay from $1.00 to $5.00 annually as active or sustaining members. The present number should be greatly increased, and we hereby invite and urge all who are interested in this noble enterprise to unite with us. The annual dues should be paid at once.

FINANCES.

The sources of income are as follows: The annual dues. Fees from patients. Free gifts. Donations of lodges, orders, guilds, societies and churches. Proceeds from entertainments. We are glad to report that our work has been well supported and that our finances are in a healthy condition. The following is a summary of the excellent report of our Treasurer, Mr. I. L. Taylor:

RECEIPTS.

Balance at last audit.....	$121.20
Dues and house to house canvases	696.85
Fees from patients	253.05
Entertainments	61.45
Collections in churches	38.93
Donations by various societies	35.00

Making a total of.....$1206.49

EXPENDITURES.

Paid the nurse	$600.00
Paid room rent	104.00
Paid sundry bills	33.59

Making a total of.....$737.59

Leaving a balance of$468.90 Under the direction of the capable chairman of the Food Committee, Mrs. J. L. Butt, numerous packages of food and delicacies for the sick were secured and distributed, and even more were available had they been needed.

THE WORK OF THE NURSE.

Miss Kate Briel entered upon her duties as nurse on Sept. 25th, 1912, and still remains with us. She has commended herself as faithful and efficient in her work and in every way so admirably adapted to our community. Too much cannot be said in praise of her selfless labors. Not a word of complaint as to her conduct or work has ever reached the ears of the directors. As practically the entire staff of our hospital is composed of nurses, it is not surprising that the work of the nurse is so important.

Let me remind the public again that while our nurse is at the service, all it is expected that a small fee be paid for her visits, thus enabling us to extend her ministrations to those who are utterly unable to pay for them. This regulation extends to all, including the members. It is wise and just as well as benevolent in its effect. The fees range from ten to fifty cents for a visit; from one to two dollars for a day of ten hours, and from two to three dollars for a day of twenty-four hours. These charges, however, are by no means intended to deprive the destitute of the aid of the nurse, for they will be cheerfully served without any compensation. It should be a source of satisfaction to all the supporters of this noble enterprise that they have been the means of relieving much distress. While happily most of us have not needed the ministrations of the nurse, it is comfortable to know that her ready help is at hand whenever sickness may invade our homes. We trust that the coming year may be one of continued prosperity and that the new Board of Directors may enjoy your confidence and support. Respectfully submitted, J. A. SINGMASTER, President.

Upon motion to approve the report and ask the newspapers of the town to publish the same in its entirety, Dr. L. A. Parsons and Rev. F. E. Taylor briefly spoke, saying the report had most appropriately recognized the faithful work of the nurse, Miss Kate Briel, and the support given in voluntary contributions, fees of patients, entertainments, etc. The motion carried.

Dr. Luther Kuhlman, Miss Mary Horner and Mrs. H. B. Nixon were appointed a committee on nominations, and while this committee retired for conference, I. L. Taylor, the treasurer, read his report, the same as appeared in the president's report more in detail.

The nominating committee reported that the entire Board of Directors be re-elected for the ensuing year, as follows:

President, Dr. J. A. Singmaster; First Vice President, Rev. F. E. Taylor; Second Vice President, Miss Annie Horner; Treasurer, I. L. Taylor; Secretary, Mrs. Donald P. McPherson. The officers of the Association also serve on the Board of Directors with these members. Mrs. K. J. Grimm, Mrs. W. Arch. McClean, Mrs. C. S. Duncan, Mrs. Luther Kuhlman, Prof. L. A. Parsons, Martin Winter, George E. Spangler, E. P. Miller, Miss Lily Dougherty, Mrs. W. A. Martin and Prof. R. S. Kirby. A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held at the home of Miss Annie Horner, on Chambersburg street, Tuesday evening, October 20.

After taking a collection which amounted to $2.65, the meeting adjourned. A Victrola, loaned by C. Wm. Beales, furnished music for the occasion.

Pipe Organ Recital.

There was a pipe organ recital in St. James' Lutheran Church on Tuesday evening, and a large audience thoroughly enjoyed the program of music. There was a silver offering lifted at the door for the benefit of the church. The recital was given by William Benbow of Buffalo, N. Y., fellow of the American Guild of Organists. Veterans Meet and Resolve.

The Southern Pennsylvania Association of the Grand Army held its twelfth annual reunion in Gettysburg on Thursday. The morning trains brought nearly a hundred veterans here and they gathered in the Hall of Post No. 9, G. A. R. about 11 o'clock. Hon. Wm. T. Ziegler, president of the Association, presided. Dr. T. C. Billheimer in his usual happy way welcomed the visiting veterans, and Adjutant Milton A. Embick of Carlisle, responded.

The following committee on officers for the ensuing year and next place of meeting was appointed: Comrades Ployer of Mechanicsburg, C. G. Miller of Gettysburg, Moore of Fairfield, Moudy of Carlisle, and Deitrick of Bendersville. This committee reported in favor of Waynesboro for next place of meeting in 1915, and the following officers and their report was adopted: John H. Harbaugh of Waynesboro, President; W. A. Moudy of Carlisle, Vice President; C. G. Miller of Gettysburg, Junior Vice; Milton A. Embick of Carlisle, Adjutant; F. K. Ployer of Mechanicsburg, Quartermaster; Rev. S. G. Wylie, D.D., of Shippensburg, Chaplain, and Maj. John W. Kirk of New Cumberland, Marshal. Comrades Wylie of Shippensburg, McAllister of Gettysburg, Mohler of Mechanicsburg, Wise of Boiling Springs, and McGonigal of Mt. Holly, were appointed a committee on Resolutions and reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, A kind and beneficent Providence has spared us to this the 12th Reunion of the Southern Pennsylvania Association of the Grand Army after a period of 50 years since the close of the War of the Rebellion and so few of our numbers have fallen by the way since we last met and especially on this memorable and historic field of Gettysburg we are here to-day to renew our acquaintance, to gather up the glorious memories which lie back of us and get new inspiration for the future.

Resolved, First that when we think this is the only strong, enlightened, Christian nation now living at peace with all the world, we are filled with surprise and gratitude to the Supreme Being who has taught us the blessings of peace and that there are higher ends both for the individual and the nation than that of pursuing the arts of war and of training armies ready at any moment for the field of carnage.

Second, In view of the fact that so many of the old soldiers' after these 50 years since the war are living and in reasonable health is proof that the current belief that the old soldiers are given up to drunkenness, and dissipation is false and that so many have reached so far beyond the age of three score and ten is evidence of clean, upright, useful lives in all our communities.

Third, In our number during the past year death leaves a shining mark, the following comrades have sounded their tattoo and entered their last great camping ground, namely, Calvin Hamilton, a noble comrade. John I. Folter, banker of high character, Chas. G. Klein of Newville, a church elder, W. Scott Morrison of Carlisle, Henry Miller of Mt. Holly and Wm. H. Lady of Gettysburg.

With us their names shall live Through long succeeding years Embalmed with our hearts Our praises and our tears.

Fourth, That the great government of the United States in still denying the widows mite to so many noble, self-sacrificing wives of our old soldiers is a great injustice and we again call upon our Congress in session to right the great wrong as speedily as possible.

Fifth, That our hearty thanks are hereby tendered to Post No. 9, G. A. R., and to the ladies and to all comrades for the pleasures of this reunion.

Sixth, That we send a message of love and best wishes to our comrade and first chaplain, Rev. J. J. Kerr, of Newville, in his present illness.

Seventh, That we commend President Wilson in the course he has pursued in preserving the nation in peace and from the calamity of war.

After enjoying a sumptuous dinner and a trip to the Cyclorama, the veterans were enthusiastic in speaking of the 12th reunion as the best ever.

The Duke of Oblivion.

The Duke of Oblivion is the title of John Red Scott's latest book, located on an imaginary island of the Caribbean Sea. It rushes along with the well known art of the author for color, imagination and adventure and seems as though it should be located on an island of the Caribbean Sea. The book is a masterpiece of the author's art and is a must for all who love a good story.

Kid Gloves

Notwithstanding that we gave an Import order for Kid Gloves in March last, for delivery October 1st, we were compelled to pay a very sharp advance on those prices, to have even a part of our order filled—or have it entirely cancelled. The fact that the factory in Grenoble was taken for army barracks and much of the stock destroyed—the almost prohibited ocean freight rates and insurance, and that all freight must be carried in auto trucks over many miles of mountain roads to distant ports—has added greatly to the cost of Kid Gloves so, as the Importer claims, the advance made did not in any sense pay them and future orders will only be filled at still much high prices. NEW DIRECTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY

Our representatives wear this badge.

The publishers of the old reliable FARM JOURNAL of Philadelphia, are preparing to publish the Illustrated DIRECTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY, giving the name, post-office, rural route, and telephone connection of every farmer, business man, and householder in the county, all arranged alphabetically, and a classified BUSINESS DIRECTORY, including all business houses in the county, arranged under the proper headings.

With the Directory is given a complete ROAD MAP of the county, with every road NUMBERED to show the exact location of each farm, as given in the Directory.

This Directory will contain many interesting PICTURES of well-known farmers and business men of the county, fine farms, thoroughbred stock, churches and public institutions, schools and pupils, etc.

The names and necessary information are being secured by PERSONAL CANVASS of all houses and business places, and of the 3752 farms in the county. This Directory and Road Map are so useful and interesting that from our experience in other counties we can guarantee that the Directory will go into at least TWO THOUSAND HOMES OF ADAMS COUNTY, where it will be constantly used by farmers and business men for the next five years.

The Farm Journal Directories are an immense improvement over directories, containing what most publications do not give. Beside all the usual information, they give the names, addresses, telephone connection, and other important information about FARMERS, secured by PERSONAL CANVASS from each farmer himself. This canvass of country districts is so costly that most directory publishers cannot afford to make it, and ordinary lists of farmers published are in nearly all cases merely copied from official lists.

The classified BUSINESS DIRECTORY includes every business house in the county, whether in city or country. In other directories the names of houses in cities and large towns only are given.

These features with the ROAD Map, makes the Farm Journal Directory an indispensable hand-book for every live farmer and business man in the county.

If you are not sure that correct information about your farm or business has been given to one of our canvassers, please send it direct to our main office.

PALMER'S CAMPAIGN SHOTS

SHOWING US THE RECORD OF PENROSE

Demonstrating That He Has Served Corporation Interests Antagonistic to the People.

Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer has been proving his charges against Penrose. There is no escape from the charges for it is shown exactly how he voted on the questions and no attempt to answer has been made for every time the record has been railed on Penrose.

CHARGE

He favors the owning and controlling of other business by the railroads and has especially opposed divorcing the railroads from the coal business.

PROOF

Another indication of Penrose's pernicious activity in the interest of his friends the railroads appeared in 1908 when it was sought to amend the commodity clause of the Interstate Commerce act so that railroads should not be affected in their control and ownership of coal mines and other property of that character, acquired prior to the passage of the Interstate Commerce act of 1906. Now you see this amendment, if it had prevailed, would have had the effect of killing the bill in so far as it was intended to regulate that very thing.

It had been demonstrated certainly to your satisfaction and I know to mine, that it is not a good thing for the public for railroads to mine coal and then ship it in their own cars to market. It is not fair to the independent coal operator, who doesn't get cars when he needs them, if the railroad has coal to ship of its own there is a shortage of cars. Of course the result of this could be that the railroad could freeze out an independent operator and then boost the price of coal to wherever it sees fit.

Now the commodity clause struck at just this very condition, and it was put in the bill over the protest of the ring of railroad Senators. But they did not lose all hope, and in 1908 Senator Foraker tried to amend the act as I have said, and a record vote was taken on May 22, which you will find on page 6754 of the Congressional Record, first session of the Sixtieth Congress. Penrose voted for the amendment, of course, and we find him lined up as usual, with Aldrich and Foraker.

CHARGE

He voted to keep Lorimer in the Senate.

PROOF

The Lorimer matter was not a party issue by any means. Such eminent lawyers as Elihu Root, of New York, one of the Republican leaders in the Senate, made a scathing arraignment of Lorimer and voted for his expulsion. Could it be in the fate which his friend Lorimer had met that Penrose himself saw the handwriting on the wall? I assert here and now, without fear of successful contradiction, that exactly what William Lorimer stood for in Illinois, Boies Penrose stands for in Pennsylvania. His loyalty to Lorimer throughout that gentleman's tribulous days was a proper loyalty and a sort of anchor to windward against a squall that he feared might come at any time and overwhelm him.

Suppose we analyze the vote taken on July 12, 1911, by which Lorimer was expelled from the Senate. What do we find? We find that kindred political spirits lined up almost to a man. Lorimerism and Penroseism were backed by such Senators as Bailey, of Texas, whose face is now also missing from the Senate; Crane, whom Massachusetts has retired to private life; Guggenheim, whose election by the Republicans of Colorado was probably as much of an offense as was Lorimer's, and whose seat is now filled by a Democrat; Oliver, Penrose's "Me-too;" Stuart, who is explaining the vote this year to his constituents in Utah in an effort to be re-elected; Perkins, who is in retirement in California; Gallinger, of New Hampshire, who is to that State what Penrose is to Pennsylvania; and the two Rhode Island megaphones through whom the "retired" Aldrich still talks to the Senate, Wetmore and Lippett, and some lesser lights and the honorable Boies Penrose.

CHARGE

He dodged the only chance he ever had to vote for equal rights for women.

PROOF

I have been asked to define my views on the question of woman suffrage. I shall do so now, because I intend that no one shall say that I have in any way side-stepped any important issue in this campaign. I stand by, for and with that plank in the Democratic platform which says:

"The denial of the right of suffrage of the women of our State has aroused a deep feeling that they are deprived of those equal rights to which, as American citizens, we believe they are entitled. We favor an immediate referendum on this important question."

As I stated at a Pittsburgh meeting last spring I stand upon my record on the woman suffrage proposition—and that record is such that I would be untrue to myself if I did not publicly declare that not only am I strongly in favor of an immediate referendum upon the question of woman's suffrage, but also, speaking for myself alone, when that referendum has come, and when the issue upon its merits is presented to the people of Pennsylvania, I shall stand upon the side where my mother would have had me stand. I shall support with my voice and all the energy I can command the proposition that the women of Pennsylvania shall have equal rights with the men of Pennsylvania.

Every instinct of my nature, planted there by heredity, education and training requires that I should do it. I am a Quaker. My people came here with William Penn, and the patron people of Pennsylvania have been the pioneers in every movement which has guaranteed to women equal rights with men.

PENROSE AGAINST WOMEN.

I believe that there are many social and moral problems in this State which will never be solved satisfactorily until the women have been granted the power of the ballot. And I believe that all arguments which have been presented as against the proposition are immeasurably outweighed by the good that righteous women can accomplish in a righteous cause. The child labor and other kindred evils of this great Commonwealth would be blotted out in their entirety and for all time to come if the honest leaders of all branches of political thought were supported by the ballot of our sainted womanhood.

Now in my position with regard to this question I believe I am opposed to Mr. Penrose. At least, he has never, to my knowledge, openly favored the cause of the women. But the women know where he stands. He had a splendid chance to show his interest in and advocacy of such a move on the 19th of March of this year, when a joint resolution for an amendment to the Constitution was voted on in the Senate; but the Record discloses on page 6471 of the second session, Sixty-third Congress, that he failed to vote at all.

Mark his inconsistency. At the very time he was a candidate in the primaries, when he was endeavoring to drag a red banner across the liquor trail by asserting his friendly feelings toward equal suffrage, he dodged a chance to prove his word by his vote.

To my mind, the Senator would be inconsistent if he favored woman suffrage. He knows, as you all know, that giving the vote to the women of Pennsylvania would destroy the power for evil of some of the interests which he has championed ever since he has been in public life.

In view of your record on this question will you tell us, Mr. Penrose, without equivocation, just how you will vote for woman suffrage when it comes up again in the Senate?

The Democratic Text Book. Achievement is the keynote of the Democratic Textbook for 1914, and the biggest of things done is heralded on the front cover, "War in the East! Peace in the West! Thank God for Wilson!" It is a record of pledges to the people fulfilled, a wonderful summary of the unprecedented performance of a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress. It contains editorial commendation of Woodrow Wilson, practically all from Republican or independent newspapers.

Every accomplishment to date, achieved in the political situation is covered in this compact, well written little volume of 352 pages. It was compiled under the supervision of a committee composed of Robert Wickliffe Woolley of Virginia, Chairman and editor, Senator Benjamin F. Shively of Indiana, Congressman E. T. Taylor of Colorado, and E. E. Reed of New Hampshire and former Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, Richard L. Metcalfe, of Nebraska.

The book opens with a two page challenge in the form of twenty four questions asking the Republican Party which of the laws enacted by the 63rd Congress it proposes to repeal, if restored to power, and recited the fact that every one of these laws was supported by Republican members of Congress. Next comes a remarkable chapter, unique in the history of textbook making, which recites in paragraphs, crisply written and boldly numbered, fifty two of the big feats of the Wilson administration and the Democratic 63rd Congress. The uniqueness and possibility of this chapter is due to the fact that not since the administration of George Washington has so much legislation of large moment to all the people been enacted by a single Congress—and the final session of this Congress has not yet convened. These first two chapters constitute a powerful foreword and epitome of what follows in the book.

First of the chapters dealing with individual achievements is that entitled "The Wonderful Story of Watchful Waiting." It tells authoritatively of the Mexican situation from its incipency down to the recent issuance of President Wilson's order withdrawing the American troops from Vera Cruz. It contains much interesting data, hitherto unpublished, showing that from the moment President Wilson entered office until he had finished the job he adhered to a fixed policy, the dominant note of which was "morality in diplomacy" and the results of which, peace with honor in the Western world, all the peoples of the earth are now applauding. No less interesting and of equal importance is a chapter further along in the book which contains hitherto unpublished and highly informative statement by Secretary of State Bryan telling of the negotiations leading up to and the signing of peace with 26 nations, whose population totals in round numbers a billion people. These treaties mean that never again can the United States engage in war with any of the signatory powers, which include three of the belligerents in the present gigantic struggle in the old world, until a careful investigation of alleged grievances is made—in other words, until the parties concerned have had time "to think it over."

Following this chapter are quotations from speeches of Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania and other Republican leaders condemning in unmeasured terms the policy of "watchful waiting" and excerpts from a letter and speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt in which he brands the foreign policy of Woodrow Wilson as cowardly and says he feels it his bounden duty to resign from the Outlook in order that he may be free to fight the present Democratic administration for the manner in which it has handled our international affairs.

Trust legislation, the Federal Reserve Act and the Underwood-Simmons tariff law are dealt with from every viewpoint in more than one chapter, each of which should be read by all who are earnestly in search of information on these important subjects.

A powerful appeal to reason is the chapter setting forth what the Democratic Congress has done toward contributing to the success of the Wilson administration. The President and Congress are described as the "Big Team." Mr. Wilson himself has said time and again that without the support of Congress he could have accomplished little. This chapter shows that not only was the support given, but that there was co-operation of a kind practically unprecedented in the history of this country.

Newspapers.

About three-quarters of the newspapers of the country seem to be laboring under the impression of late that there is little of consequence going on anywhere in the world but the European war. A notable exception is "The Philadelphia Record," whose editors preserve a just sense of proportion in the presentation of the

CONSUMPTION TAKES 350 PEOPLE DAILY

Over 350 people succumb to consumption every day in the United States. Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists. The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood; it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and throat, while it upbuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption. If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug. Avoid substitutes.

news, as usual. The war is getting all the attention it deserves in "The Record" in the shape of full and satisfying accounts from all the foreign sources; but it is not allowed to overshadow reports of other events, at home and abroad, in which well-balanced newspaper readers are interested.

Freedom from sensationalism has served "The Philadelphia Record" well in this war situation. It has not been obliged to overtax its ingenuity (as have some other newspapers, which have exhausted their typographical resources in giving startling prominence to unimportant matters in times of peace) to "play up" the war news. That school of journalism which spreads a head in inch-high type across the page to chronicle an automobile accident or a dog-fight is hard put to it to find type and space big enough for the news of a battle on the outcome of which may hang the destinies of half-a-dozen nations. "The Record" isn't in that school. It continues to fill the space given over by some of its contemporaries to spread eagle heads with what the readers want and pay for—accurate and comprehensive news.

"Record" popularity is perhaps accounted for by "Record" versatility. "The Philadelphia Record" covers every phase of human activity in its varied departments, and stands in the good graces of every member of the family. It is fair, clean, reliable, bright and entertaining. It is a level-headed all around NEWS paper for intelligent people who want trustworthy news of all happenings worth reading about, served in attractive form.

THE GALLOWS

ROPE THAT DANGLED OVER GETTYSBURG

The most sensational romance yet published by the Sunday North American in its widely known series of "Romances from Pennsylvania History," is to appear on October 18, under the title of "The Gallows Rope that Dangled Over Gettysburg." Until it appears the true story of John Warren will have been kept strangely silent for fifty years.

Nothing is more strange than that this romance should have been kept the jealous secret of the few, for in its very nature it is a subject of universal interest. The mystery and peculiarity which clung to the case of John Warren seemingly would have made it the most popular story of the neighborhood in which it happened. Yet nothing can be found concerning it in the channels through which it naturally would have come. Strange as it may seem, the former neighbors and the fellow-soldiers of John Warren knew nothing of the truth. The former knew what had originally spread the dark cloud over his life, and the latter knew that something drove him into the fray like a man possessed, but neither knew the whole truth.

Readers of the Sunday North American will be fascinated by this romance. The local interest will be strong, and, further more, the story value in and of itself will be compelling.

REPUBLICANS ARE REVOLTING

Turn to Palmer and McCormick to Rebuke Penroseism and Rescue Their Party.

DIMMICK LEADERS ACTIVE

Rev. R. M. Little, of Philadelphia, Noted Charity Worker, Tells Why Republicans Must Repudiate Penrose and Brumbaugh.

Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 6. Rev. R. M. Little, a prominent Philadelphia Republican, secretary of the Society for Organizing Charities, and the manager of the campaign of J. Benjamin Dimmick for nomination for United States Senator in the May Republican primary, in a speech at Lebanon, disclosed the fact that Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, deliberately declined to oppose Penrose and Penroseism when urged to do so by his best friends.

The report of Rev. Little's interview with Dr. Brumbaugh before the primary election, showing that the Doctor even then was tied to the Penrose bandwagon, created a great sensation in this Republican stronghold, and has started a stampede of independent Republicans away from the whole Penrose ticket.

Mr. Little said in part: "I have always been a Republican, and Senator Penrose calls himself a Republican, but if Penrose is a typical Republican, I, with many thousands of others, can no longer wish to be called Republicans."

"Our opposition to Dr. Brumbaugh is based not only upon his association with Senator Penrose, but also upon the evasive manner in which he has addressed us in response to all our efforts to find out where he stands. Several of us who were interested in seeing a clean Republican ticket nominated, knowing that Dr. Brumbaugh had been in conference with Senator Penrose, Senator Oliver, State Senator Vane, Mayor Armstrong, of Pittsburgh, and several other organization leaders, wished Dr. Brumbaugh to tell us frankly where he stood."

"In appraising him of the fact that we knew of his conference with the above named Republican leaders, he admitted the fact and seemed a little non-plussed at our knowledge of the conference and some of its details, but endeavored to smooth the matter over."

"Dr. Rufus Miller, a friend of Dr. Brumbaugh, was with me, and while speaking directly to Dr. Brumbaugh about the necessity of the Republican party being rehabilitated in Pennsylvania and in the nation, urged upon Dr. Brumbaugh his great opportunity. As Dr. Miller presented his various points, he turned and asked me if these were not the points with which he wished to arrange an agreement."

"I replied 'Yes, that as we believed in the rehabilitation of the Republican party under a new leadership this involved the retirement of Senator Penrose.' I looked directly in the face of Dr. Brumbaugh when I made this statement. He looked directly at me and replied, 'No, I am not willing to say that.' To this I replied, 'Then we cannot agree if you do not believe in the necessity of Senator Penrose's retirement.'"

"When it was perfectly plain that Dr. Brumbaugh did not believe that the rehabilitation of the Republican party involved the retirement of Senator Penrose, it was clear to us that we need not seek in him a candidate who would do his best to further such a house-cleaning."

HENRY C. NILES OUT FOR DEMOCRACY

Former Lincoln Party Chairman Urges Support of Palmer and McCormick.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 6. Henry C. Niles, of York, one of the best known independents in the state, who led the fusion fight for the Lincoln ticket in 1906, in a ringing speech here tonight, declared flatly for the Democratic state ticket and urged independent Republicans to unite in support of Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer for United States Senator and Vance C. McCormick for Governor.

Mr. Niles particularly addressed his remarks to those progressive Republicans and Roosevelt men who had made possible the political revolution of 1912, which ended in the election of Woodrow Wilson, and he paid a notable tribute to the Wilson administration, declaring that its policy of peace and progress deserved the support of independent men of all parties.

He said in part: "As an independent voter, I will vote for Palmer for Senator and for McCormick for Governor, because I believe their election will be for the best interest of the state and nation. The defeat of Penrose and Penroseism depends upon the independent voter, as has every great reform."

"One of the perils of the republic is the party man, who always makes his cross in the party square. Washington foresaw this and warned his country against party spirit as of equal danger with foreign foe."

"Abraham Lincoln repudiated the party which had honored him, when its tendencies were away from freedom. His spirit is now the impulse of those who, following his example, turn from the Republican party since it has degenerated from its original high estate."

"The last in this illustrious presidential line of party bolters is Theodore Roosevelt. His conversion was somewhat late, but his eyes were opened four years ago to the villainy of the Republican bosses, and abundantly he has atoned for his former evil associations."

"Making possible the election of Wilson was the best and greatest achievement of Roosevelt's career. Wilson has brought about the most desirable reforms which Roosevelt strove for, but failed to accomplish as a leader of the boss-ridden Republican party."

"And now the influence of the Roosevelt progressives is to contribute to the emancipation of Pennsylvania. With high motive, Dean Lewis has retired from the field, and he and his great leader, with their independent Republican followers, are supporting Vance McCormick, the independent Democrat, for Governor. To the honor of making Woodrow Wilson president, Roosevelt and his independent progressives are to add the glory of making Vance McCormick Governor of Pennsylvania."

"If Senator Penrose had his way, our country would today be knee-deep in an endless war with Mexico, instead of being the one peaceful spot on earth."

"Our president, as the appointed savior of constitutional self-government, should speak for peace, tolerance and liberty, by the unanimous authority of the republic. Our pet domestic differences ought to be forgotten for the time, in view of this race tragedy. Only members of senate and house pledged to support the president loyally and unhesitatingly in his efforts for present neutrality and for ultimate peace, are entitled to election."

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

The personal reminiscences of Baron de Méneval, for thirteen years private secretary to Napoleon Bonaparte, bring out, as no history can, many enlightening and interesting side lights on the character of that greatest of leaders. De Méneval's descriptions have the piquancy and interest possible only because he was an actual eyewitness of the scenes and incidents of which he writes. Their reliability and historical interest can be judged by the fact that the very conservative French Academy publicly recommends them.

D. A. R. Elects Officers.

Gettysburg Chapter D. A. R., at its first fall meeting October 10, re-elected all officers as follows: Regent, Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal; Vice Regent, Mrs. Wm. A. Granville; Secretary, Mrs. Harry M. Hartman; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Lawrence Butt; Historian, Miss Frances McClean; Chaplain, Miss Annie Majors; Registrar, Miss Margaret Barr.

Mrs. Granville gave a report of the proceedings of the State Conference held in Easton last week, which was most interesting and instructive. The President General of the N. S. D. A. R., Mrs. William Cummings Storey, requested all the members of the society to contribute financial aid to the Red Cross. The local chapter will contribute to the cause.

A resolution was adopted by the chapter to endorse all efforts to have the Curfew law in force in Gettysburg and earnestly requests the council to pass and enforce the law, at an early date.

Fan Gloom.

Oh the gloom, gloom, gloom, of the Gettysburg fans. It rumbled and tumbled down by the cans, cans, cans. It began to fall when Bender lost seven to one. It was simply awful when Eddie's game wasn't won. It was heart breaking to lose one to naught. And Bush no better than when the veterans fought. The gloom could be cut and sawed by the chunks.

With Shawkey in the last of four straight flunks. The sun did not did not shine for the Gettysburg fans for days. Even now with voice and eyes they speak through a haze.

THERE ARE COMPENSATIONS. Eddie, with each loser of the Mackmen pockets a consolation check of $2,031.68 and if he had been among the winners it would only have been $2813.10, a little difference of but $771.42.

Post Office Marble.

The fool marble replacing in the post office building is threatened, Mr. Darby of firm of Darby & Pierce of Washington has come here. This fool marble replacing is something that demands the attention of authorities that can stop it. There is no demand for it here. Some one years ago made a mistake in putting in the marble specification "Cream B" when it should have been "Cream A," and the difference between quality "Cream B" and what is in the lobby isn't worth while. If it should give more uniformity in color that uniformity will destroy the present beautiful color effect. It looks to us like a play of politics, in which has-beens are trying to dictate what should be done and to no good purpose. It will inconvenience the public in the use of the post office while being put in place without one single redeeming public benefit. It should be called off. If the marble man put in a quality he should not have used he should be punished by being docked in amount of his bill and not the public.

LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS

Are YOU impressing on your friends the importance of the coming election?

President Wilson, with the co-operation of Congress has placed on the Statute Books of this Country more constructive legislation than was ever done in the same length of time in the history of the Country with the exception of the First Congress:

A Tariff that compels the Trusts to sell as cheaply to you as to the people of foreign lands, without concession to special interests.

A Currency Law under which the money of the country is distributed where needed, and one that prevents panics and insures stable financial conditions.

An Income Tax that equalizes taxation.

The watchful waiting policy with Mexico which averted war, and placed this country in the front rank as a preserver of peace.

President Wilson has stood for the people: his administration has been a good one; he will continue in office to fill his present term two more years from March next; it certainly is wise to continue in Congress those who have supported, stood by him and will stand by him.

Congressman Brodbeck has done and will do this; he deserves your support. You should tell your friends why Mr. Brodbeck should receive their vote on November 3rd.

He has not only stood by the President, but has been conscientious in fulfilling his duties as the Representative from this district, and has given all matters presented to him prompt and careful attention.

Show your confidence in the President in the only way in which you now can, by supporting and voting for Mr. Brodbeck.

McCORMICK FOR GOVERNOR

The people are going to vote for Vance C. McCormick for Governor.

Because they are tired of a Machine masquerading under the name of Republican.

Because they are tired of a Machine controlled by corporations, special interests, receiving donations from Standard Oil and Liquor Combinations.

Because they are tired of being painted to the world as "Corrupt and contented."

Because they know Vance C. McCormick stands for what is clean, honest and square in politics and government.

The people know this because Vance C. McCormick as Mayor of Harrisburg proved capable of giving a clean, square deal administration.

They want the State administration cleaned. They know Vance C. McCormick is capable of doing the cleaning and they are going to

AN EYE OPENER.

Have you read the confidential letter of Neil Bonner, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Liquor Dealers, against the Democratic candidates, McCormick and Palmer? He threatens "If Vance McCormick wins the fight your license will not be in force many more years." In the U. S. Senator fight he says, "We must also assist in the re-election of Senator Penrose." When the president of the Federation of Liquor Dealers issues orders of that kind, the time has come not only for Democrats but for all citizens to forget party and stand together in the fight to elect the men Bonner is opposing. From now until the closing of the polls on Nov. 3 it should be a united drive for McCormick and Palmer. A citizen can not have a better reason to vote for McCormick and Palmer than the Bonner letter below. This federation and the special privilege manufacturers of protection have joined hands to thwart and defeat the people. It is for the people to vote for their own interests for McCormick and Palmer. Here is Bonner's letter:

PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF LIQUOR DEALERS

"Office of President, Neil Bonner,
Twenty-second and Carpenter Sts.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

"My dear Sir:

"I am addressing you this letter, trusting that you will consider it as strictly CONFIDENTIAL and will immediately BECOME ACTIVE AMONG YOUR PATRONS by requesting them TO REGISTER THEIR NAME AS A VOTING CITIZEN NEXT TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15. UNLESS THEY REGISTER THEY WILL BE UNABLE TO VOTE IN NOVEMBER.

"You must fully realize that the coming election in November means more to every liquor dealer, regardless of the fact of his being a retailer, wholesaler or brewer, than it ever has in the history of Pennsylvania."

"Our enemies are well organized and are about to make a determined effort to elect members to the coming Legislature who will support their bills in favor of local option, anti-treating, Sunday closing and other measures, all of which, if passed, will practically mean the loss of hundreds of dollars monthly and yearly to every one of us. To some of our fellow dealers it will mean that they will lose their license privileges, and, in such instances, who knows where they will apply for a new license. PERHAPS ACROSS THE STREET FROM WHERE YOU ARE LOCATED NOW."

"You cannot help reading the papers and realizing that there are but two candidates now for the office of Governor. IF VANCE McCORMICK THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE, WINS THE FIGHT, YOUR LICENSE WILL NOT BE IN FORCE MANY MORE YEARS.

"WE MUST ALSO ASSIST IN THE RE-ELECTION OF SENATOR PENROSE.

"For once in our business life, WE ARE FORCED TO DEFEND OUR HOMES AND BUSINESS. WILL YOU HELP US BY URGING YOUR PATRONS TO REGISTER?"

"WRITE OUT A NOTICE AND PLACE IT ON YOUR MIRRORS OR BACK OF YOUR BAR, CALLING THE ATTENTION OF EVERY CUSTOMER TO THE FACT THAT HE SHOULD REGISTER TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, WITHOUT FAIL."

"You can do much to help us out of our trouble, if you will do so."

"KEEP THIS COMMUNICATION CONFIDENTIAL."

"Fincerely yours,
"NEIL BONNER."

WHAT THE NOVEMBER ELECTION MEANS.

In just a few weeks, on November 3rd, the voters will have an opportunity of participating in another election, and this election is of far greater importance than many seem to realize. The election of a United States Senator and of a Governor and other State officers as well as a Congressman from this district will then be decided.

You will then indicate by your vote if you believe that President Wilson and his administration have been faithful in the enactment of laws for the benefit of ALL the people as against the few. Whether or not you approve of the policies which resulted in the United States being at peace with the world when war rages throughout Europe, and you indicate that confidence by voting for those who stand for and back of the President.

Congressman Brodbeck who is the Democratic candidate for re-election has been faithful in the performance of his duties as your representative in Washington; he has been constantly on the job; he has stood by the President; he has voted for the measures that have meant so much to the American people; he backed up the President in his "watchful waiting" policy with Mexico, and he has been consistent in advancing the interests of the residents of this Congressional District. Mr. Brodbeck has proven that he can be relied upon to support the President, and you certainly can place more reliance in one who has shown just where he stands and is in sympathy with the President, than one who is untied and who is directly opposite in all respects to what President Wilson stands for. Mr. Brodbeck not only deserves your vote, but your earnest support. It is up to you to campaign for him, he is in Washington looking after the interests of the country which are your interests, and you should not only as a resident of this district, but as an American citizen, in accord with American principles tell your friends just what the coming election means.

THE MORAL ISSUE.

"Colliers' Weekly" in its last issue points to the moral issue at the Pennsylvania election this fall as follows: "If Pennsylvania re-elects Senator Penrose next month, it will be hard to believe that there is much of the spirit of regeneration in that State. Next to Cannon and McKinley, who are running for congress in Illinois, Penrose is the most conspicuous of the old discredited leaders of the Republican party who are now offering a conspicuous target to the discriminating voter. Penrose is not merely reactionary. In the present mood of public opinion, with the unaccustomed economic conditions which we face, the Republican voters of Pennsylvania might be forgiven for standing pat. But Penrose has perpetuated in Pennsylvania ever since Quay died, probably the most odious political machine in the United States. Aside from any political or economic issue, this machine, with its booze affiliations, creates a moral issue which no sincere voter can dodge."

Working for Old 9th District.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate in Pennsylvania, has asked Secretary of the Treasury, McAdoo to restore the old Twelfth internal revenue district in Pennsylvania, with headquarters at Scranton. Secretary McAdoo received from Mr. Palmer this letter:

"To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Treasury.

"Dear Mr. Secretary—The legislative judicial and executive appropriation bill, recently signed by the President, authorizes the establishment of 64 internal revenue districts in the country, an increase of one district. This change in the law was secured mainly through my efforts in the desire to have the Twelfth Pennsylvania district restored. You will remember that this district was joined with the Ninth district by executive order of President Taft, and I have appeared before you several times urgently requesting that it be re-established. In view of the fact that the law now provides for the establishment of an additional district, I trust you will have an order issued re-establishing the Twelfth Pennsylvania district with the same boundaries as it formerly had and with headquarters at Scranton."

"Hoping for your early and favorable consideration, I am, yours very truly,

"A. Mitchell Palmer."

Secretary McAdoo will pass upon Mr. Palmer's request within a few days. It is believed here that the district will be restored.

Live Democratic Club.

The New Oxford Democratic Club is proving to be a real live organization. It had over a hundred members when organized and the matter of membership has been vigorously pushed until it now has 350 members. It is aiming to have 500 members by the date of annual meeting of the State Federation of Democratic Clubs several weeks later. Joseph I. Weaver is the bustling president of the club. Clark Brown, Secretary, and Harry Pittman, Treasurer. They are holding weekly meetings on Tuesday evenings.

Good Roads Issue.

Massachusetts is not the only State that has good roads at a cost that puts Pennsylvania to shame. Let me quote you some comparisons. The contract price of macadam roads in Pennsylvania under Mr. Baileys' management is from $14,000 to $20,000 a mile. Michigan builds macadam roads for $12,000 a mile. Ohio for $9,000 a mile. New Hampshire for $7,000 a mile, while the average cost of all roads in New York is only $4,100 a mile. In other words, Pennsylvania is paying from two to three times a fair price for building macadam roads, and she is not getting the roads in spite of all the money she spends.—Vance C. McCormick.

Masonic Trip.

An automobile trip was taken by about fifty people of this place, Masons and their families, on Monday. The trip proved to be a most enjoyable one to Harrisburg, Elizabethtown, Lancaster, York and home. The purpose of the trip was to visit the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown, a property of 923 acres, upon which more than a million dollars has been expended since 1910. It has now 176 guests from 23 counties of the State and the Gettysburg visitors were delighted with the institution.

On the Job, In Your Interest

You have the satisfaction of having a Congressman who is devoting his time in your interest by being in Washington in constant attendance at the sessions of Congress for nearly eighteen months. Mr. Brodbeck who represents you is a

Candidate on the DEMOCRATIC TICKET For Re-election

He has been consistent in upholding President Wilson and his policies. Has stood by the President in his successful efforts to avert war with Mexico which undoubtedly has meant the saving of thousands of lives, millions of money and untold hardships.

The newspapers every day for a month past have been setting forth the awful horror of the war in Europe.

Isn't it the proper thing to do to support the President? And the most effectual way to do this is by showing your confidence in those who have worked with him.

ANDREW R. BRODBECK

Mr. Brodbeck not only deserves your confidence, but your VOTE on NOVEMBER 3rd.

What They Think of A. Mitchell Palmer

What President Woodrow Wilson, five, A. Mitchell Palmer, has done? "He has reached the point where the door is open to him and to this district for almost any high honor he desires to reach out for, and not to keep him in public life would not only be a mistake but would be a national misfortune."

Hon. Oscar W. Underwood on A. Mitchell Palmer: "I have been in Congress for sixteen years, I have seen many men come to Washington to serve in the House of Representatives and go. I have seen many men as a matter of justice to my friend, that I know of no man in all the time that I have served in Congress who has come to Congress and in so short a time has obtained the high position in the House of Representatives, commanded the following and achieved the leadership that your own representative, A. Mitchell Palmer, has done."

Instantly suggests the remedy, HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. A word to the wise is sufficient. Buy a bottle this very day. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the true blood purifier, prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Nisi Prius."

People often ask the meaning of the legal expression "nisi prius." Literally interpreted it means "unless before," a name given to the sittings of a court for the trial of civil causes. Judges on circuit, besides trying prisoners, have the power to give decisions in causes of complaint between private parties and when so acting are called judges of "nisi prius." Formerly when the circuits were less frequent the sheriff was commanded "by writ" to bring the jury and witnesses from the county where the action arose to Westminster, Gloucester or Winchester on a certain day, but when the assizes became frequent a "nisi prius" clause was inserted in the writ containing these words: "Unless before that day our justices shall come to your county and take the assizes there." As it happened that the assizes always did take place before the date named in the writ the clause was practically useless and now remains only as a name for those civil causes to which until recently it referred.—Dundee Advertiser.

Blood and Thunder Drama.

"One of the most successful productions at the 'Old Vic' was a play—written without Dickens' permission—round 'Oliver Twist' and banned by the Lord Chamberlain owing to the realistic way in which Bill Sikes murdered Nancy. His lordship's jurisdiction did not extend to what were then called the 'minor theaters,' so the play was for many years a standing dish at the 'Vic' and thrilled the galleries with fierce emotions, no matter how many times they had seen it. 'Nancy was always dragged round the stage by her hair,' writes John Hollingshead, 'and after this effort Sikes always looked up defiantly at the gallery. He was always answered by one loud and fearful curse, yelled by the whole mass like a Handel festival chorus. When Sikes seemed to dash Nancy's brains out on the stage a thousand outraged voices, which sounded like ten thousand, filled the theater and defied the audience below.'—London Chronicle.

First War Correspondent.

The first war correspondent, according to a theory propounded by Sutherland Edwards, appears to have been Homer, who was sent by the editor of an Argos paper called the Chronos to describe the siege of Troy. Hostilities lasted only about seven weeks, and when they came to an end the Greek chiefs were in no hurry to return to their wives. Homer was a good sort, and as he drew a large salary and a handsome allowance for expenses from the Chronos he readily accepted the scheme propounded by the wise Ulysses—to keep the war going to the columns of his paper so long as he could manage to write about it. His letters were too good not to publish, and meantime the Greek chiefs had an enjoyable time at Troy and elsewhere. Possessed in book form as "The Iliad" these early examples of war correspondence have enjoyed a wider circulation than was possible even in the columns of the Chronos.—London Graphic.

An Unknown Chess Genius.

When Lasker, previous to the 1899 chess international tournament, visited Manchester he was opposed in a simultaneous performance by an unknown player, who had obtained permission from the club secretary to take a board against the champion. The player put up quite a fair game, but was finally mated. Then he inquired of Lasker to know wherein he had erred in the conduct of the play.

"Well," said Lasker, "your play has been somewhat peculiar. I notice that you have not once moved your knights."

"No," replied the player, "the fact is that I have not as yet quite mastered the move of the knights, so I thought it safer not to move them at all."

The stranger had unconsciously conceded his famous adversary the odds of two knights, not to mention the handicap of his cramped position.

Not Very Busy.

"Recorder of Deeds," read the sign over the door of a handsome building on one of the more prominent of the golden streets.

A new arrival within the pearly gates entered. "The recording of deeds interests me," he announced. "I used to be a lawyer in the other world. But why is it that all the clerks are working except you?" he inquired of the only idle member of the force.

"I record the good deeds," explained that member courteously.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Wearing Flowers.

The kind of flowers that are fitting for a woman to wear depends upon her age and personal appearance. Blossoms that are becoming to a young girl look out of place on the elderly woman, and the woman who is tall can wear certain varieties which the one who is short cannot.

Banksia roses are for the quite young girl. Violets are charming for either youth or age. Daisies belong only to youth. Pansies seem fitted for ripeness, though the pansy-eyed girl looks well with them. Chrysanthemums look well on youth or maturity, but do not seem to belong to the old. Roses belong to all ages, but need to be chosen with care as to their color and size. Lilacs can only be worn by a tall figure. Neither are poppies for the petite nor things that grow in bunch form. Snowdrops that would look foolish on a middle aged woman look sweet on a young girl. Lilies of the valley are for youth or middle age. Mignonette does not belong to youth, nor do sweet peas and daffodils belong to age, but any one can wear the fragrant carnation.—Exchange.

Unmoral and Immoral.

Are you unmoral or immoral? Do not answer too quickly, for if you are only unmoral we may be able to overlook it. Unmoral stands to immoral in much the same relation as unregenerate stands to degenerate. If you commit some act of which the arbiters of ethics disapprove the category that you go in all depends on whether the arbiters have previously brought the ethical constitution and bylaws to your notice. If they have already told you that a certain thou shalt not exists then you are immoral if you disobey it. If, however, you are still in an untaught state of sheer savagery then you are merely unmoral, and instead of being the victim of execration and contumely you are entitled to all the emoluments and perquisites of any other savage. Ignorance of the civil or criminal laws excuses no one, but ignorance of the moral law does count for a little these discriminate days.—Ellis O. Jones in Lippincott's.

Good Advertisement.

Father is an advertising man and has had the misfortune to be and up with the rheumatism. For some time, when he has been able to walk at all, he has limped along at a snail's gait with a cane. Things seemed blue enough, but it was for his small son to point out that which, in the little boy's mind, was one of the large benefits of the situation.

They had walked down the street together, and dad had been stopped several times by people who wished to know what was the matter or to inquire how the disease was progressing.

"Do you know, dad, this is some advertisement?" said the son enthusiastically.

"What is?" groaned his father.

"Being all crippled up and walking poky with a cane," replied the son. "I never did see so many people pay so much attention to you before."

Father was too stiff and sore to whip him.—Indianapolis News.

Memory.

Memory is that faculty of the mind which enables us to know that we have forgotten something. Without memory there would be no history; hence no fiction.

Memory furnishes the only background for liars that is needed. It enables many people to labor under the continuous illusion that there is a past, when in reality there is nothing but a present.

Without memory there would be no worry, because worry is fear for the future, based on recollection of what has happened—usually to someone else.

Memory enables us to store our minds with useful facts—until they are proved to be wrong by other useful facts which in turn take their place.—Life.

Lifting Dead Weight.

There is a more or less popular belief that it is easier to lift up a living body and carry it some distance than to carry a small, compact "dead" weight, such as iron dumbbells. Somebody several thousands of years before any art of writing was invented imagined this thing and told it to his next door man. He told it and so all along the ages and centuries. Pure hallucination, along with hundreds of others now injuring this modern scientific age. If a person weighing 150 pounds appears lighter than anything weighing fifty or seventy-five pounds, it is simply because a distorted mind of some weak man imagined it, maybe 100,000 years ago. Some dream for all current myths.—New York American.

AS YOU FEAR, CANCER

TUMOR GROWTH BUNCHES you will be glad to know of the successful non-surgical system of treatment. No knife, saw, radium or serum.

"I am a clergyman and G. A. R. veteran. I thank God that I went 50 miles to the Birmingham Cancer Clinic and Sanatorium. I had cancer on chest and hip, one of 12 years duration. Other cancer doctors failed. My face is well. Scars hardly noticeable. A wonderful cure without knife or lot of blood under Dr. S. A. and Dr. K. D. Kennedy's system. My age was 60. I was not prepared for cancer as I was a veteran, who went away reeling. Send for Dr. S. A. and Dr. K. D. Kennedy's Red Book and see my picture in it. Gratitude and a doctor's note for my cure. Write, I implore you, to this address for my Red Book."—Rev. Dr. Montgomery, Danville, Illinois.
